Q4 2022

Commentary

As 2022 comes to an end, the global economy continues to grapple with geopolitical issues and concern over a potential impending recession that could impact all types of businesses. The procurement function has spent a lot of time troubleshooting and strategizing to ensure business continuity.

Despite the negative economic sentiment, e-auctions by Scanmarket in Q4 of 2022 reported a significant increase in average savings of 6.88%, up from 5.04% in Q3 and substantially up from 1.22% savings in Q4 of 2021.

At a category level, Q4 reported little top 10 category movement in terms of most e-auctioned categories.

Services once again took first place as the most-auctioned category with an average savings of 10.04%. It is also worth mentioning categories such as Iron & Metals (tools, parts, cables, etc.) and Freight & Transportation (land, air and sea) which both had in excess of 20% of savings (22.51% and 29.07% savings respectively).

While many categories reported positive savings, some did not. Construction and Repair (flooring, damage control, engineering, etc.) and Ingredients for Food Production (additives, flour, sugar, etc.) reported -16.39% and -12.10% respectively. This is an indication of current economic conditions where inflation and potential recession continue to be top-of-mind.

Overall, Scanmarket reported 6.22% savings vs the current price in Q4, highlighting once again how buyers are turning to e-auctions to mitigate inflationary forces.
